

Look Forward to Every Monday

FAQ's

Q: When I sign up for just $39.95 and I have customers order from my retail website, will I earn commissions for those sales?

A: Yes, every RETAIL sale made from your Revii retail website will pay you a retail commission.

Q: If had at least 50 points of shopping done through my retail website in a calendar month, would that activate my business?

A: Yes, if you have at least 50 points of shopping on your retail website in one calendar month.

Q: How much will I spend to earn at least 50 shopping points to activate my business?

A: Remember, the 50 points can come from a combination of your personal shopping and/or retail sales made through your retail website. You can activate your business with 50 points in one calendar month for as little as $88 (plus any applicable shipping and tax).

Q: Once I activate my business with at least 50 points in one calendar month, how much will I have to spend each month to earn the 50 shopping points, so I keep "banking" points?

A: The goal of any business is to have satisfied customers. Because customer orders count towards your 50 points, it is possible you may not need to spend any of your own money to earn 50 points. The 50 points can come from your personal shopping and/or the shopping of customers on your retail website; however, if necessary you can earn 50 points for as little as $88 (plus any applicable shipping and tax) based on the products or packs you want to order.

Q: What happens when I share Revii with people and more than two people want to sign up as distributors in my team?

A: Fantastic! Because of our two team pay structure, you will place one personally sponsored distributor on your left team and one on your right team. When more than two people join your team, they are placed in the next open position under someone on your left or right shopping team. This stacking is called "spillover" and is very beneficial for you and your entire team.
